DETAILED ACTION

Response to Amendment

The terminal disclaimer filed February 28, 2008 has been received, and noted with appreciation.

The Amendment dated February 28, 2008 shows no major changes to the rejected claims, and especially fails to further provide a characteristic, or property, or a limitation to independent claim 1 that would substantively differentiate the invention of claim 1 from the prior art used against it. Namely, as now recited in claim 1, the optical navigation chip, absent further limitation, is equivalent to detecting elements 23 and 25 of Cornsweet et al. Similar reasons apply also to other references used against claims previously.

With regard to the statement made by Applicants in second paragraph from the bottom of page 5 contending that the CCD video camera of Cornsweet et al is not for tracking eye movement, the examiner strongly disagrees. See abstract, column 1, lines 6-10 and column 2, lines 3-5 of Cornsweet et al.

In light of the above, the arguments made by Applicants in the Amendment of February, 2008 are not persuasive. Therefore, all claims that were previously rejected under "102" and "103" still stand rejected on the same grounds.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

Art Unit: 2873

(a) the invention was known or used by others in this country, or patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country, before the invention thereof by the applicant for a patent.

Claims 1-4, 12 and 15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Cornsweet et al.

See previous Office action.

Claims 1-7, 10, 12, 15 and 16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Rothberg et al.

See previous Office action.

Claims 1 and 13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Smith.

See previous Office action.

Claims 1-4, 12, 13 and 15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Yee et al.

See previous Office action.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 8 and 14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Cornsweet et al.

See previous Office action.

Claims 8 and 14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Rothberg et al.

See previous Office action.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 9 and 11 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
